

Educational Visits

Penshurst Place provides a resource for schools to explore history through the ages; to educate and inform pupils of all ages about life in England from the Romans to modern day.

We strongly recommend that schools book a House Tour with one of our guides who are experienced at working with school groups. The Toy Museum, with toys, and games from the past on display, is the perfect resource for younger children. A simple trail can be provided plus a written guide for teachers. Bags can be left in our Old Coach House and used later for follow up work and lunch. Picnic areas are also available. There is a Woodland Trail with interpretive notes and an Adventure Playground for children to enjoy before getting back on the coach.

For more adventurous children, we recommend getting in contact with The Bush-craft Company, who deliver fantastic outdoor woodcraft pursuits on the estate for school groups. Visit www.thebushcraftcompany.com to learn more.

In March, we hold our annual 'Elizabeth I and the Armada' presentations for schools, featuring a cast of actors who involve students in the life of an important household as troops prepare to battle the Spanish Armada. Students are able to walk through the House visiting a different character in each room with a story to tell. A real life History lesson! We provide full risk assessments and a free preparation visit for teachers.

An Invitation to Groups for 2017

A quintessential English stately home, and ancestral seat of the Sidney Family
Home of Viscount De l'Isle MBE

Welcome to Penshurst Place & Gardens

The House

The Medieval Baron's Hall, built in 1341, is regarded as one of the best examples of medieval domestic architecture in the country; it was built with the intention of impressing all who visited, and it still does today! Within the medieval hall hangs a selection of tapestries which guide the eye up to the impressive 60 feet high original chestnut beamed ceiling. Within the further medieval and Tudor staterooms groups will find a collection of beautiful portraits, antiques and history.

The Gardens

The Historic Gardens of Penshurst Place were laid out in Elizabethan times and are considered to be among the most beautiful in England, with early records dating back to 1346. Over a mile of yew-hedging separates this 11 acre walled garden into a series of distinctive "rooms". Each garden room offers an abundance of variety in form, foliage and bloom from Spring to Autumn.

The Place

Set within the larger Penshurst Place Estate, the House and Gardens encompass parkland walks and a beautiful Woodland Trail. Visiting groups can also enjoy a charming Toy Museum, a Gift Shop and our on-site Garden Restaurant, brimming with local produce and delicious menu choices. Book your meal in advance to receive a discounted rate.

Make the Most of Your Visit

Groups visiting Penshurst Place and Gardens can either pre-book a private guided tour, or visit as a non-guided freeflow group. Both options offer full access to the House and Gardens, and both can be combined with a set Lunch or Tea.

Private House Tours

All of our House tours are private and operate outside of our public opening times of 12noon - 4pm to allow our groups to get the most out of their tour. We are happy to offer House Tours out of our seasonal opening times and are happy to tailor our content to suit your group's special interest if required. Tours of the House take approximately one hour and are also available in French, German, Dutch., Danish and Norwegian.

Private Garden Tours

Garden Tours can take place at any time between 10.30am and 4pm. A tour with our Head Gardener is also available for an extra charge. Garden Tours take approximately one hour. There is also the option of a combined House and Gardens tour which, when combined with a relaxing lunch break in between, makes for a wonderful day out.

Non-guided Visits

Groups are welcome to wander around the House and Gardens at leisure. Room guides in several languages are available in each of our staterooms, as are large print and Braille versions. We also have knowledgeable stewards in each room who will be able to answer any questions you may have.

Special Joint Tours & Visits

On The Tudor Trail

Hever Castle and Penshurst Place & Gardens
Two historic places in Kent, just a few miles apart, brought together by King Henry VIII and Anne Boleyn. This ticket includes a guided tour of the House or Gardens at Penshurst Place in the morning, followed by a non-guided visit to Hever Castle in the Afternoon.

House and Historic Penshurst Church Tour

Through the private gate in the garden walls of Penshurst Place stands the Village's picturesque medieval church. Begun in the 12th century, it houses the chapel and burial vault of the Sidney family. The church's outstanding architecture and art bear witness across the centuries to the story of an English village and its most famous family. Tour the House between 9.30am and 11am or at 4pm, and combine with a tour the church between 10.30am and 4pm.

Dont Miss

Relax In The Garden Restaurant

Begin your tour with a tea or coffee waiting for you upon arrival, before enjoying a delicious lunch or cream tea in the Garden Restaurant, with cosy seating indoors and a shaded terrace perfect for the summer months. Both hot or cold self-service meals are available in the Restaurant, or you can pre-book your lunch and enjoy a special groups rate and a guaranteed seating area and table service.
